DEDICATION FOR THE ANNUAL

In this first year of the challenging 1960's, the world turns to leaders in every phase of life to lend a helping hand. Governments turn to presidents, cities turn to mayors, some countries turn to dictators, children turn to parents and Our Lady Queen of the Angels High School turns to Christ through Our Lady Queen of Angels.

Through her, the Mediatrix of All Graces, we receive Christ, the Leader, the Head. And in turn each of us in her own capacity has been commissioned to radiate her faith, giving Christ to the world.

Because of this commission, we are, therefore:

"The salt of the earth"

"The city seated on a mountain top"

"The light of the world"

We are the leaders of the world in Christ.

Administration

Leaders are made, not born. In the making they require training and guidance. Without this excellent training, all qualities of leadership would be of no avail in a person. Just as a plant depends on a healthy root for food and anchorage, so also the students of Our Lady Queen of Angels High School depend on the members of the faculty for a firm foundation in Christian ideals, the development of leadership qualities, example and inspiration.

At O.L.Q.A., the faculty is indeed the source of inspiration for all students. Through their never ending patience, our instructors administer to the students, molding them into leaders, preparing them to take their due place in society as instruments of Christ.

The Students of
OUR LADY QUEEN OF THE ANGELS HIGH SCHOOL
725 Castelar Street
Los Angeles 12, California

My dear Students:

We are happy to learn that the theme of the Class of 1961 is "Leadership".

It is our earnest prayer that this Leadership of the Class of 1961 will find its expression in the leadership that follows the footsteps of Our Lady as she travelled the pathway of sorrow and success with her Divine Son.

It is our prayer that the companionship of Mary, the Mother of God, will ever be a living realization in the lives of the members of your Class.

Praying for you all blessings, I am,

Faithfully yours in Christ,

ARCHBISHOP of
Los Angeles

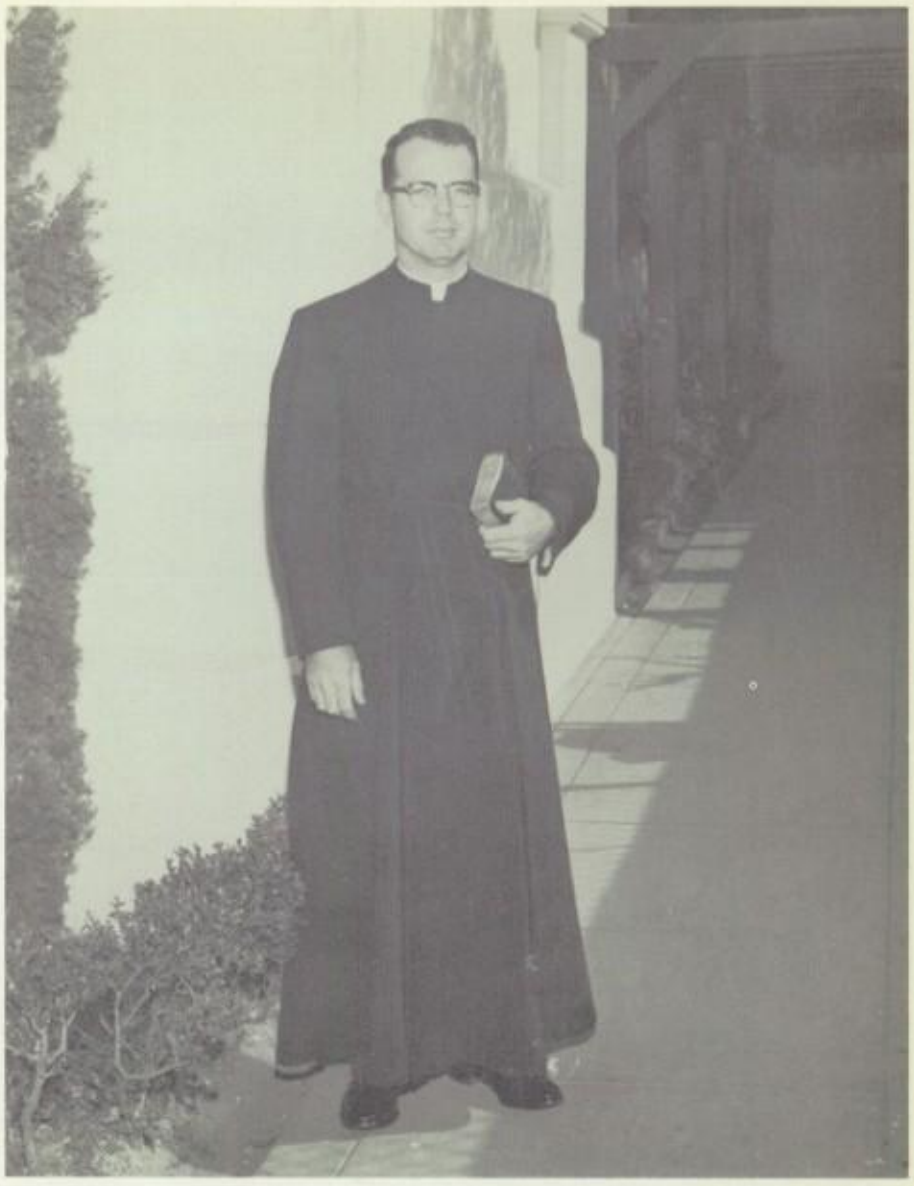
Spiritual Advisors

Our new pastor Father Louis J. Bossi C.M.F. has proven himself most generous in providing for the needs of our school.

The Angels of O.L.Q.A. are very fortunate to have the spiritual leadership of these wonderful priests, dedicated to instilling in them the spirit of Christ.



Father Gerkin guides many an Angel with his wise counsel.

Our new chaplain Father Albert Vazquez C.M.F. has won the love and admiration of all O.L.Q.A. He offers the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass in addition to teaching Religion and the senior marriage course.

Sister Agnes Marie I.H.M., our beloved principal, understands our problems and is always willing to help us with them. To her we look with love and respect. We shall never forget how she has used her boundless energy for our welfare.

Dear Graduates,

Life today is characterized by noise and hurry. The screech of traffic, the frenzied rhythm of today's music, the variety of demands and anxieties combine to keep man from thinking of the ultimate questions of where he came from and where he is going. And this external din and bustle penetrates man's mind with insignificant distractions, irrelevant news and senseless emotion. This neurotic, masculine world of 1961 seeks leadership--the leadership of women who are both wise and compassionate, strong and humble, tender as well as beautiful. For women must inspire man to follow God and to save mankind. Only women can bring harmony to this world of man. She does this by being totally feminine, wholly woman. And it is my prayer that in leading man to God, you may find the perfection of your womanhood.

Look to Mary of whom Scripture says, "No moon so fair, no sun so majestic, no embattled array so awes men's hearts."

In Mary's Immaculate Heart,

Sister Agnes Marie, I.H.M.

Facu

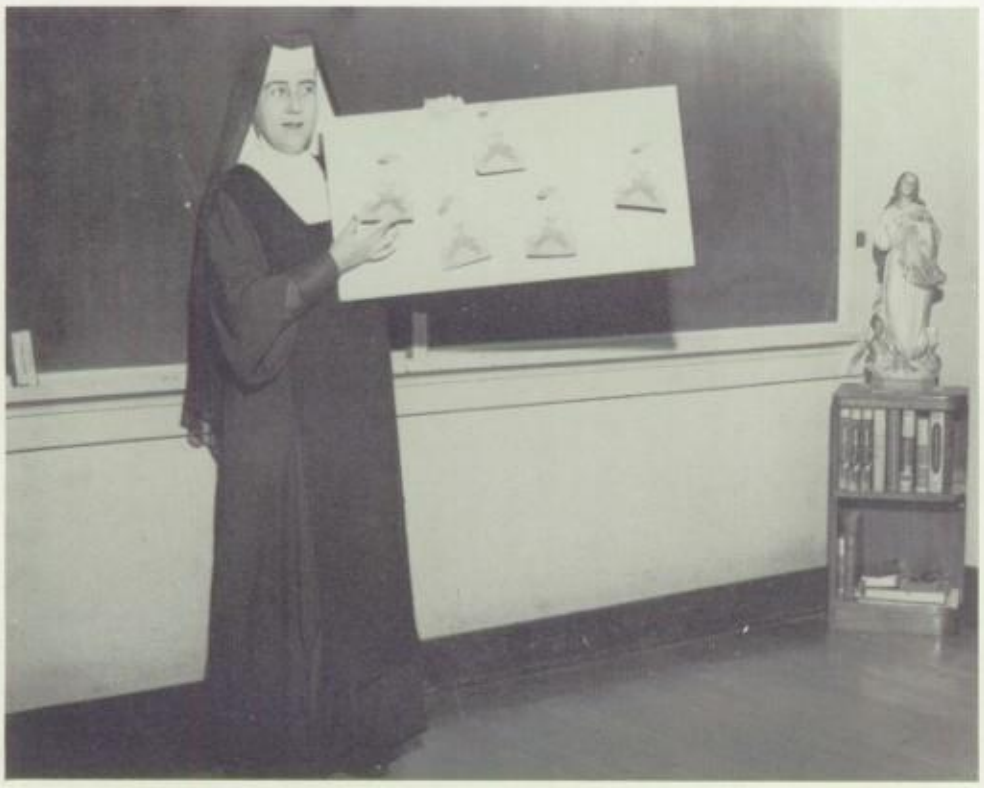
Sister Eymard finds all members of her journalism class present, after taking roll.

Sister Dominic proudly stands by projects done by biology students.

Sister St. James prepares a few questions to ask her senior civics class.

ty

Sister Miriam is busy preparing an experiment for her chemistry lab class.



Sister Consilia, moderator of the Junior Red Cross, displays work of members.

Sister Rose Emmanuel points out to her history students the results of previous party elections.

Sister Mark Aidan patiently awaits the arrival of her next office practice class.

Sister Simon Peter gives us good example by using the books in the library to prepare a lesson for her next class.

Sister Jeremy proudly displays the work of her art class.

Sister St. Luke explains to her religion class the symbol of the Holy Spirit.

Miss Fichtel carefully puts things away in the book store after the morning rush.

Mrs. Du Barry gives a smile of approval as she looks at the grades of her typing class.

Miss Howard hurries out to teach her next gym class the art of playing volleyball.

Preparing a test for her class is Miss Hope, who teaches senior English and speech.

Miss Adair and Mr. Parker look forward to their next dancing and social etiquette class.

Flora Sanchez performs one of her many duties as secretary.

Miss Scott, school nurse, helps keep O.L. Q.A. the healthiest school in Los Angeles

Leonard Nunez' faithful service is appreciated by all.

Julio and Cruz are always around when needed.

Our leaders, the Student Body officers and the Student Council, act as guiding lights by enforcing regulations, directing school activities, and promoting school spirit.

Through their efficient execution of duties and the careful guidance of the moderators, the students learn to accept their obligations and their opportunities for Christian and civic leadership.

Leadership, loyalty, and a sense of responsibility have long been the distinguishing qualities of Maria Theresa Montelongo, our Student Body President.

Student

Christina Yip, Student Body Vice-President, is head of Senior Control. Her cheerful personality, her cha-cha step, and the fact that she's the only Oriental beauty around our campus has made her quite popular with the Angels.

Good things come in small packages, it's been said, and to look at our Student Body Secretary, Rachel Campos, is to believe it. She's just a small sample of a true Angel.

Government

Marie Berumen finds being Student Body Treasurer quite fun. She enjoys writing checks and keeping the financial records straight.

The Student Council Moderators, Sister Eymard and Sister Dominic, look over a book on parliamentary procedure.

Christina Yip and Maria Theresa Montelongo go over some of the school rules with a freshman class president.

Maria Theresa Montelongo outlines events of coming months to Student Council members: Row 1, C. Yip, G. Montoya, and C. Basset; Row 2, M. Berumen, C. Rodriguez, M. Vargas, and J. Casillas; Row 3, R. Campos, M. L. Rodarte, F. Gamboa, and E. Hall. Standing, B. Himes, V. Vasquez, C. Contreras, and S. Reyes.

Christina Yip gives Senior Control members Lupe Gomez, Juana Casillas, Martha O'Leary, Helen Arriola, and Lupe Espinoza new posts for the week.

Lupe Gomez faithfully tries to do her job by seeing that the girls are neatly dressed.

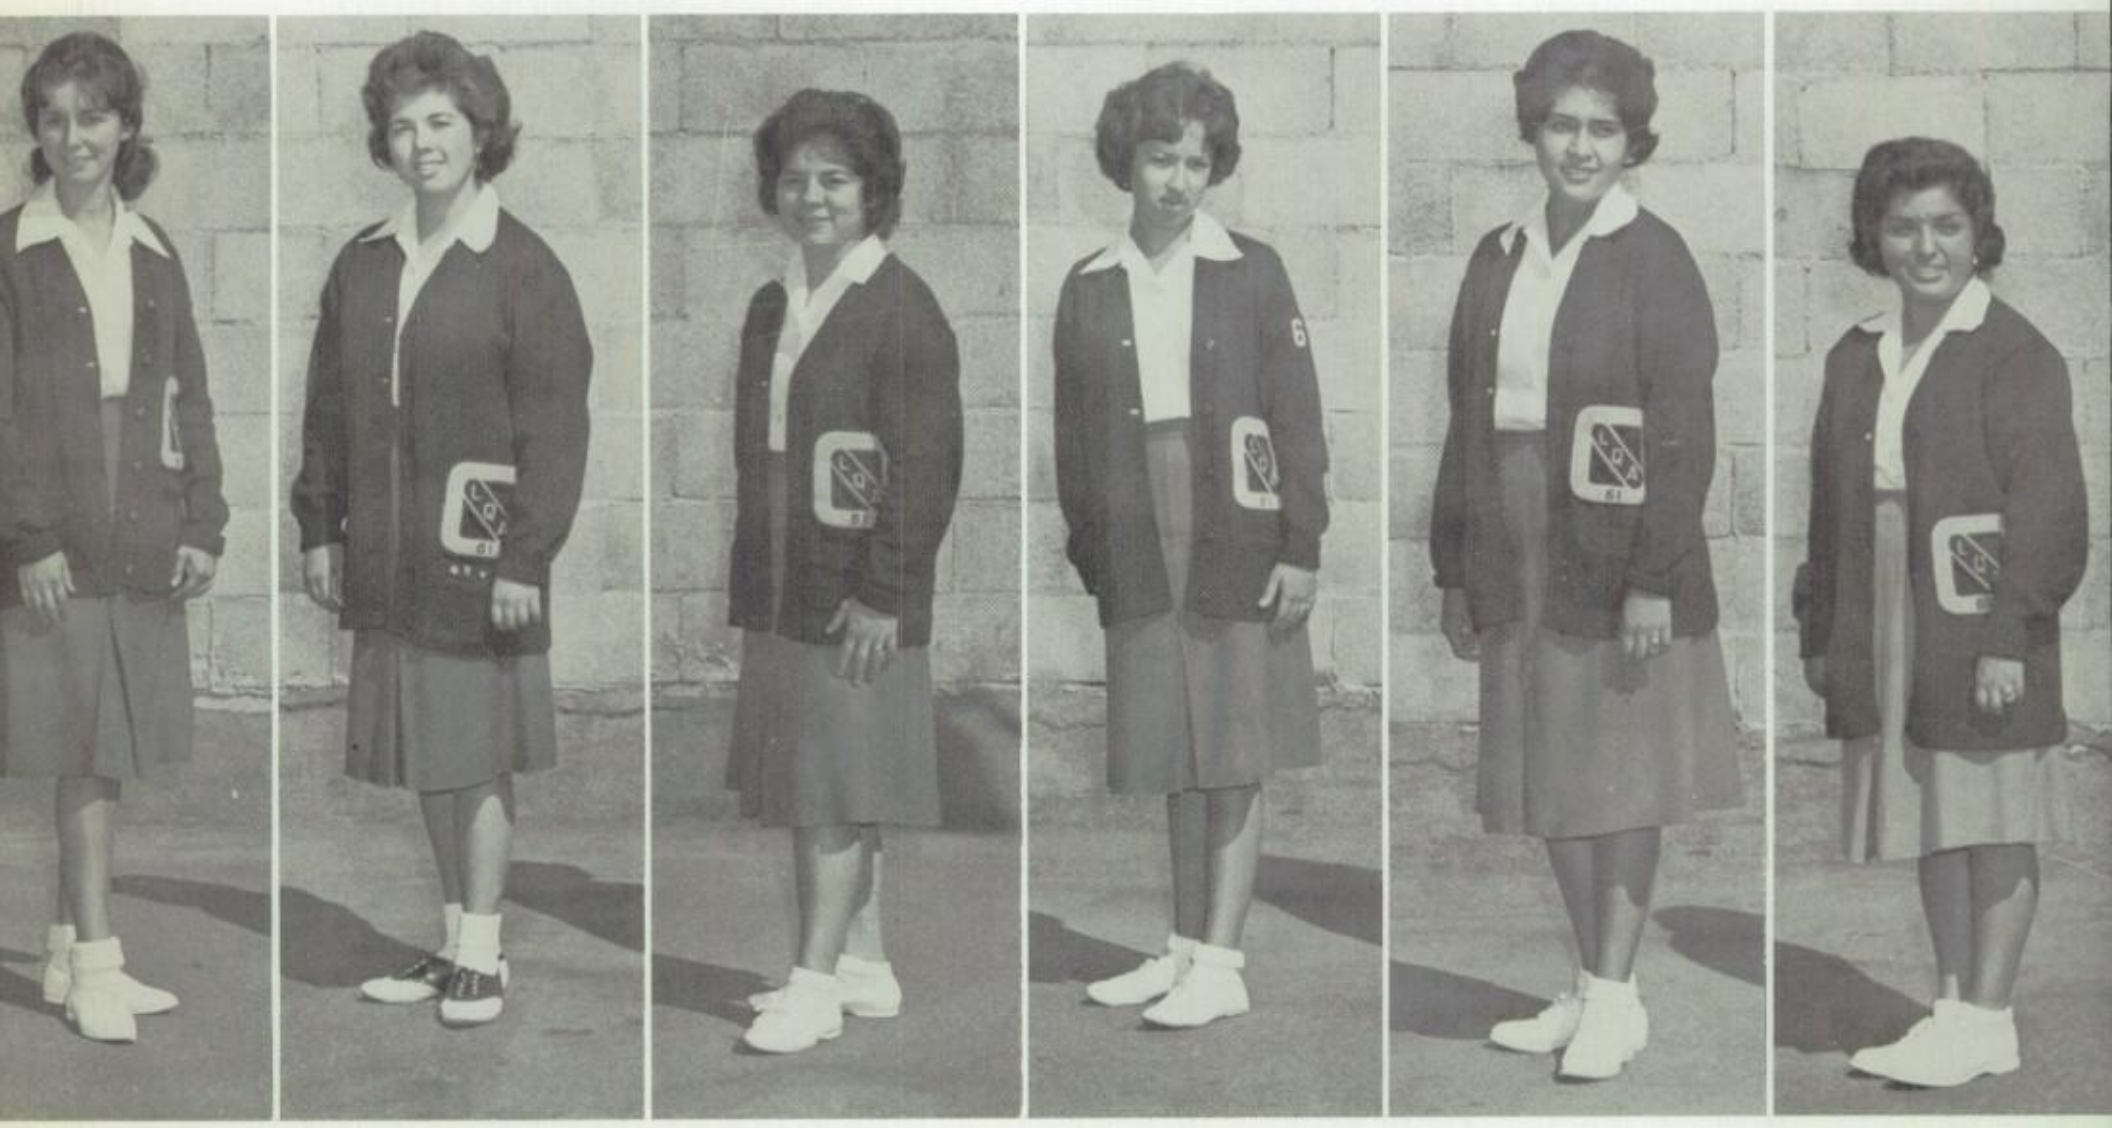
Seniors

Guided under the protective crown of Our Lady, the Class of 1961 has reached its long awaited goal — commencement. The spirited Reinitas will trade school life for the many responsibilities of womanhood in varied phases.

Using the four years of high school as a foundation, some will continue to add to their knowledge by attending college; others will strive to achieve success in the business world; many will attempt to fulfill the responsibilities of the religious state; while others will find their vocation in marriage.

Wherever they go, in whatever they do, they will reflect the training and the ideals given them at O.L.Q.A. Their ideas, their actions, successes, failures, joys and accomplishments — all these in many ways will reflect upon their years at O.L.Q.A.

Senior Class



12S1 Officers are: Mary Louise Rodarte, president; Susanna Verdugo, vice-president; Mary Louise Gonzalez, secretary; and Armida Duenas, treasurer.

12S2 Officers are: Juana Casillas, president; Patsy De La Rosa, vice-president.

Officers

Rose Ann Cox, secretary; and Ana Maria Rios, treasurer.

12S3 Officers are: Frances Gamboa, president: Rosalinda Revuelta, vice-president; Genevieve Garcia, secretary; and Martha Padilla, treasurer.

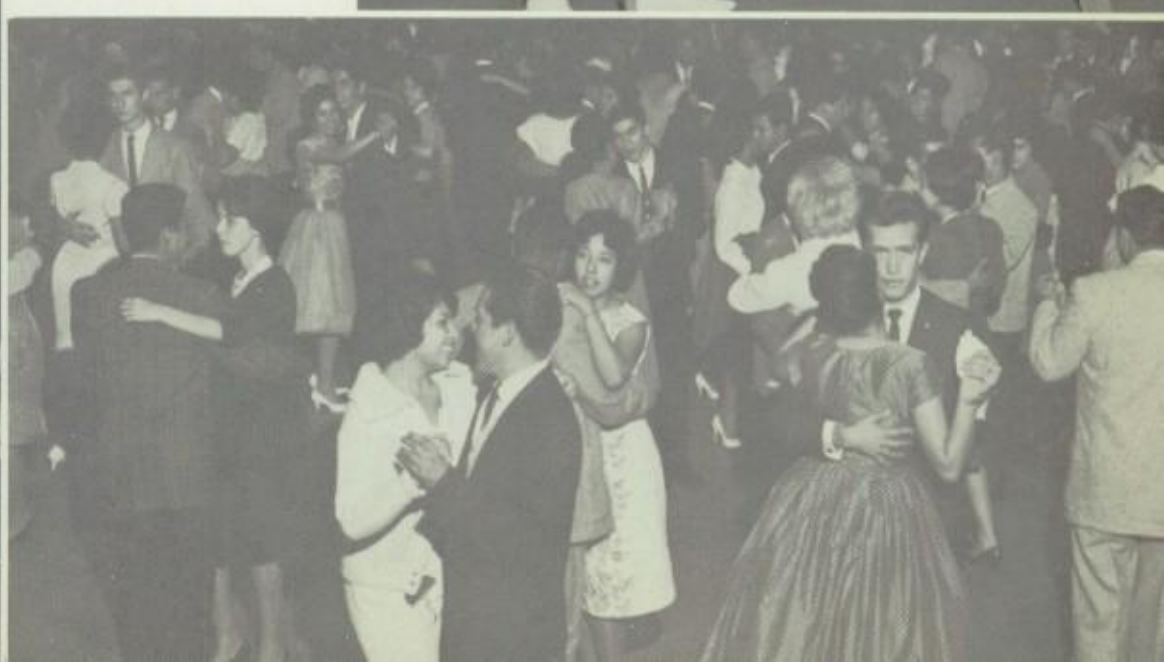
The Seniors, co-winners of the G.A.A. rally, presented wonderful entertainment, with time as their theme.

Senior class cheerleaders, Betty Carrasco, Stephanie Hernandez, Martha Vargas, and Lupe Espinoza, help bring out the spirit of the Reinitas class.

Golden Autumn

"Golden Autumn", theme of the Senior dance, was a great success, as every one who attended knows.



Scholastic Activities

The seniors, realizing the time is fast approaching when they will be facing the challenges of a world which does not know Christ, endeavor to fill themselves with the knowledge and ideas which will serve as their weapons in the battle to make Christ known and to spread His Kingdom.

Presenting Her Majesty, Queen of the Junior-Senior Prom, Frances Gamboa!

Prom night is a night to be cherished and remembered forever. The anxiety of preparation and of inviting that special boy are all well rewarded on prom night when everything is divine, the music is heavenly, and that first formal provides you with an even bigger thrill when you know he likes it. Prom night, however, does not just happen. Credit must be given where credit is due and it is the Junior Class that deserves the credit for this. But all their months of fund-raising and worry are worthwhile. They culminate in a glorious Junior-Senior Prom.

Junior-Senior Prom

Juniors

Thrilled and excited over the coming year, the Junior Class reminisces about the past and dreams of the future. The Juniors are eager to take their place as leaders of the school, yet they are conscious of the difficulties that they will meet. Deeply aware that in unity there is strength, as a class they undertake the duty of managing the prom. The joys, anxieties, responsibilities and achievements of the Junior Class will be remembered and cherished by them always.

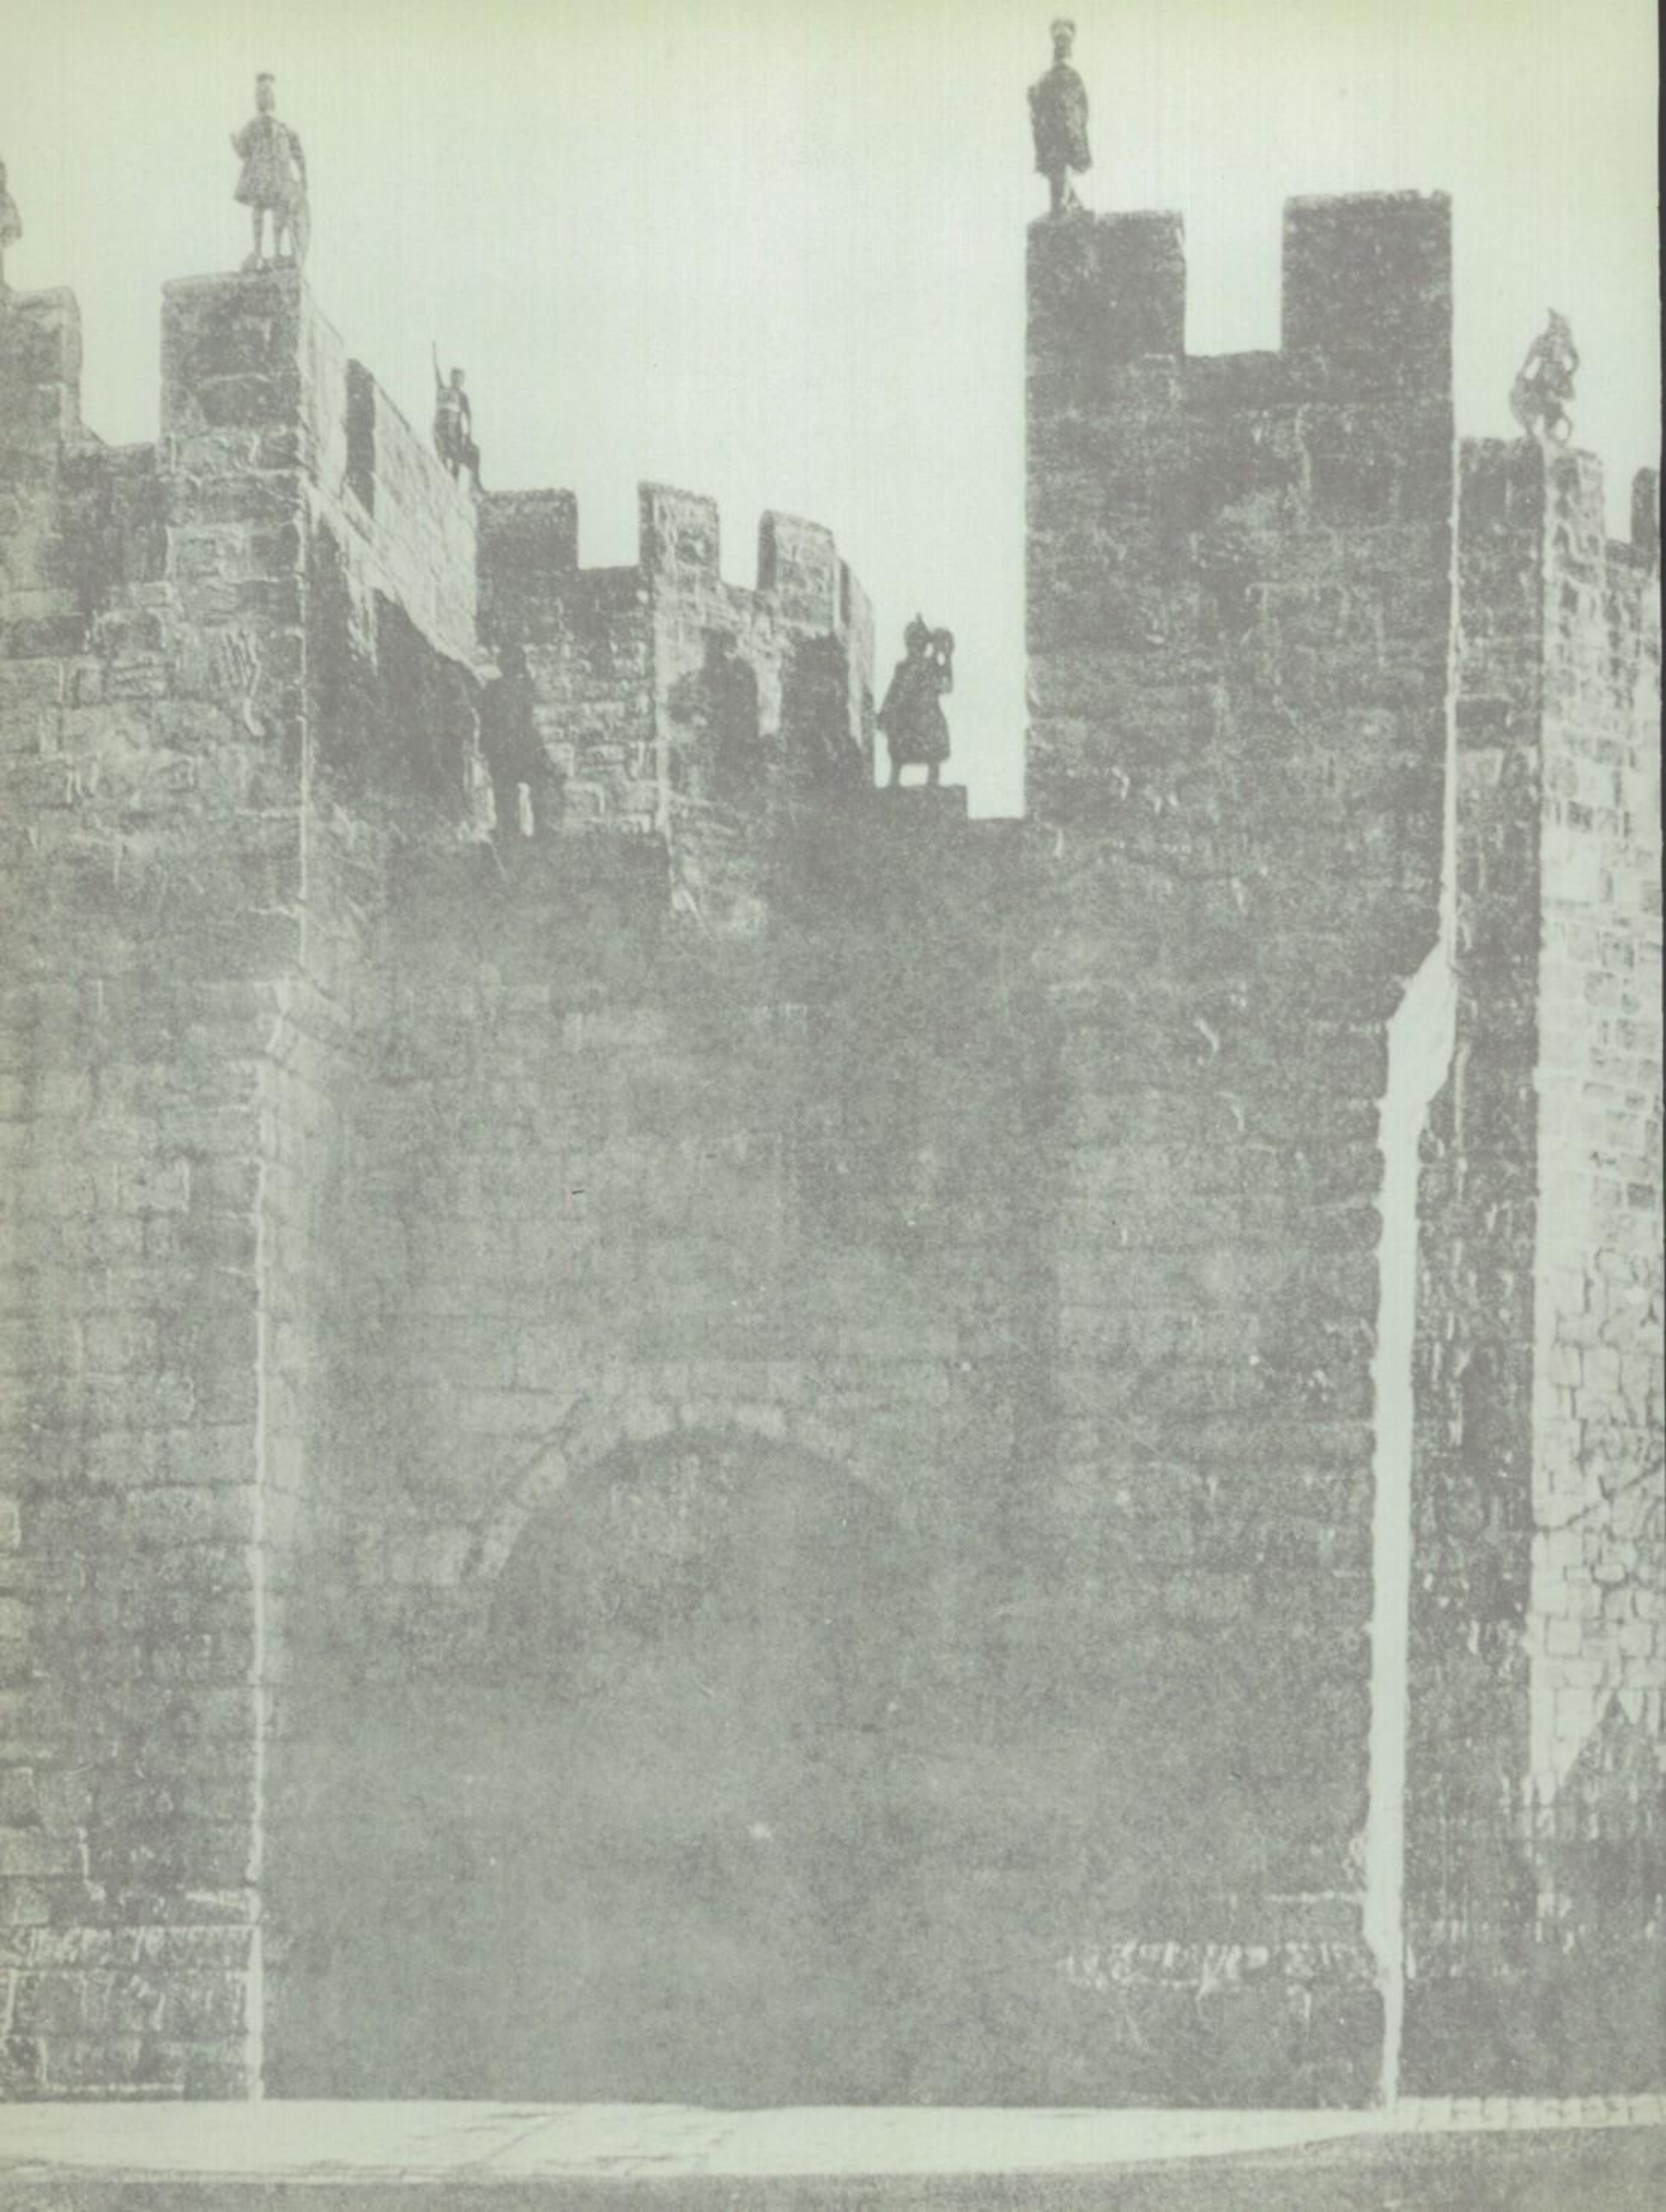
Gloria Montoya was honored and overjoyed at being selected to attend Girls' State. She consults with Sister Agnes Marie and Marie Teresa Montelongo who was also honored by being a semi-finalist in the California State Scholarship examination.



Sophomores

A never ending store of energy and vigor is a familiar characteristic of the Squirettes of O. L. Q. A. Although it is the smallest class in number, it has more than proven that good things come in small packages. As leaders in the making, the sophomores have become active members of many organizations on campus. Thrilled at the prospect of becoming upper classmen, they are preparing themselves spiritually, academically and athletically for the work ahead.

Freshmen

Although high school is a new experience for the freshmen, the uncertainty of the first few weeks has disappeared and been replaced by a desire to become a true part of O. L. Q. A. Unnoticed and unafraid, the freshmen prepare for the years ahead by intensive study and vigorous activity. Just as the expert diamond cutter carefully studies the rough diamond in order to cut it properly, so also, these Diamantes are being studied, and guided through these first stages of high school life. Each day brings with it new achievements, by which the members of the class mature and are able to comply with the responsibilities that confront them.

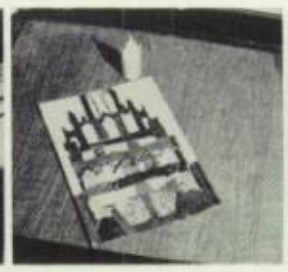
Scholastic Endeavors

Besides being a fountain of life, learning is the blueprint by which our entire lives are constructed. Our success in future life depends on the effectiveness of the training that we now receive, and even more on the interest and work that we put into the training. The quality of our scholastic endeavors is not measured solely by the grades which appear on our quarterly reports but by the amount of effort that it took to acquire those grades. Whether we are stunned by the complexities of chemistry, or baffled by the intricacies of shorthand, we will be rewarded by the satisfaction that results from understanding, and by the desire for more knowledge.



Mrs. Du Barry's typing students experiment by typing to music.

History taught by Sister Rose Emmanuel becomes most interesting.

Is she really going to dissect that frog, or is she just teasing it?

Can you translate the word "sueñan"?

Miss Hope's speech class follow the recording with their papers.

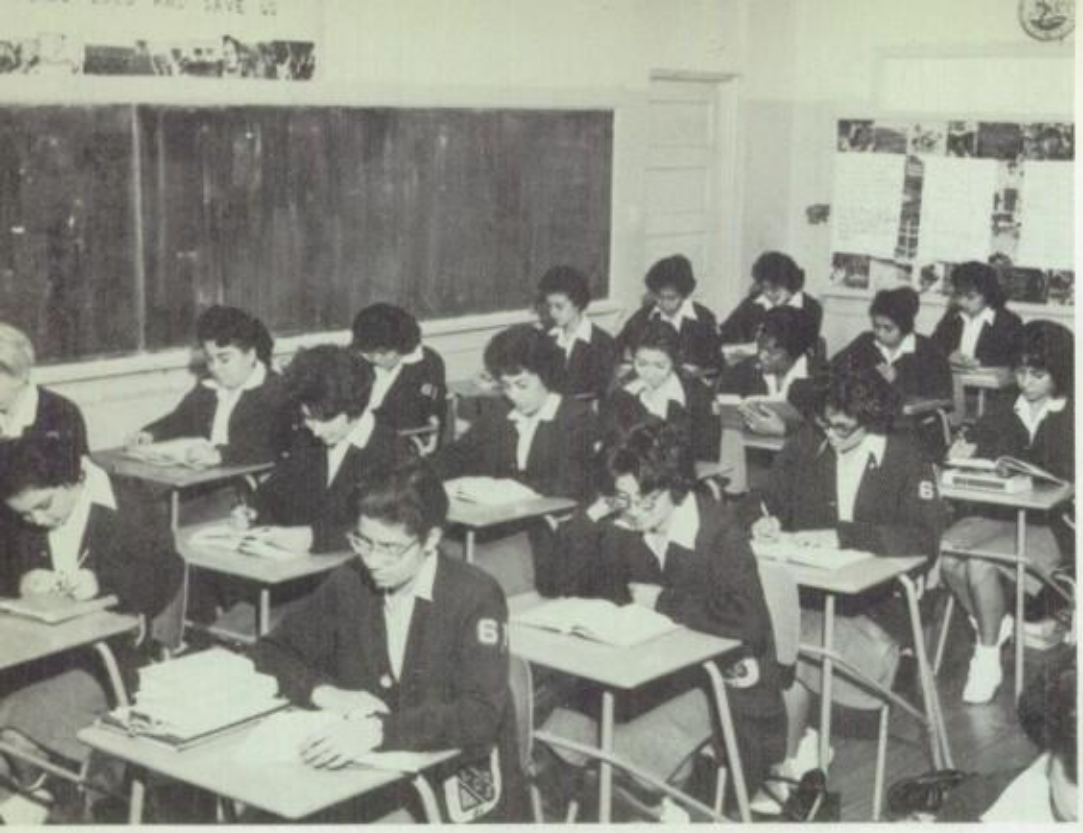
Latin I students are real scholars, as Miss Fichtel will verify.

This was the day Mr. Parker's and Miss Adair's dancing students were put to a test.



Better accountants are made by practicing on the calculating machines.

In Senior Religion class, we study, study, study, to learn more about our Faith before going out into a pagan world.

The experiments in chemistry are really interesting.

Sodality

The Sodality of Our Lady is the leading force in the spiritual life of the student body. It is a vital organization since through it the Sodalist learns to know God, thereby loving and serving Him also. The various committees are workshops of the soul where the Sodalist can develop her spiritual life. Strengthened with God's own Body and Blood, the Sodalist is prepared to meet the challenge as leaders in future years.

Career Day

Leadership has many ways of manifesting itself. Some people are destined to be leaders of countries, others of a family, and still others in the field of some career. In this day, many people find the outlet for the leadership within them in following a career. To help us make the choice of a career, O.L.Q.A.'s Sodality conducted a one-day seminar. Men and women in different fields spoke on their specific careers, bringing the inspiration of their own leadership to us.

Organizations

To cope with the many and varied interests of the student body, many organizations have been founded. Each organization has a specific purpose and fills a special need, yet each is basically the same because each provides an outlet for the ideas and energy of the students. Whether a student belongs to the Drama Club or to the Red Cross or to any other organization, she is taught to meet with responsibilities and is made ready to become a strong leader as well as an intelligent follower.

G. A. A.

With service as its keyword, the Girls' Athletic Association ranks high among the many organizations at O. L. Q. A. One reason for its many members is its versatility since it provides an activity for every member of the student body no matter what her interests are. Through games, its members are given an opportunity to display spirit and sportsmanship as well as athletic ability. It is a high ranking leader-making organization on the O. L. Q. A. campus.

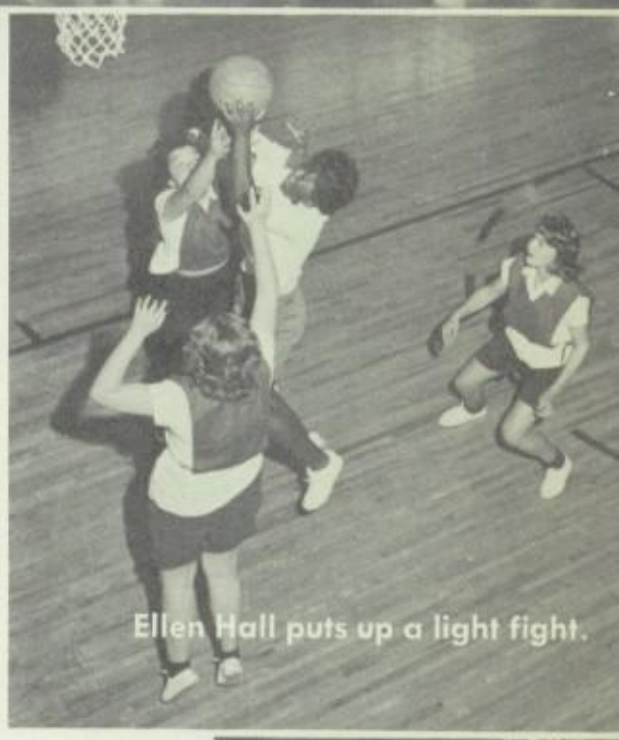
To O.L.Q.A. students, the coming of March brings no anticipation of wind or of Caesar's ides or of anything else other than the St. Anthony's Tournament. With basketballs and pom poms galore, the students set out for Long Beach. This year, in true angelic tradition, O.L.Q.A. showed everyone the tremendous spirit and sportsmanship for which she is famous. Consequently, O.L.Q.A. was honored as the most Inspirational Team of the tournament, and was given a large trophy to prove it. In true O.L.Q.A. fashion, Angels once again proved that, "You gotta be from Queen of Angels to win a game and to come out on top!"



Ellen Hall puts up a light fight.

FROM THE EDITOR

Thank you to . . . Sister Agnes Marie, for allowing our night-owl Regina activities . . . Sister Jeremy, for her untiring efforts to make our annual "tops" . . . Sister M. St. Luke, who made that last penny stretch and stretch . . . the Faculty, whose favorite song by this time must be the "Interrupted Melody" . . . Mr. De La Torre, who scaled walls for us; whose photographic art was put so completely at our disposal . . . my staff, who should be very proud of themselves . . . all the wonderful patrons, whose support made the publishing of this Regina possible . . . the student body, the celebrities who grace the pages of our Regina . . . to each and every one . . . thank you . . . thank you . . .
